Larry the Litigator here for Residents Against Wood Smoke Emission Particulates RAWSEP Episode 57BR a new Talk Show inspired by those folksy folks in home insurance company Advertising on TV. Tone Deaf Wood Smoke Sucking Insurance Companies!

RAWSEP Audience. Thank you for wearing our signature RAWSEP ski goggles in solidarity with us who are near neighbors of indoor residential wood burners whose wood smoke enters our yards and infiltrates our homes sickening us and shortening our lives. Even though we are in a wood smoke free studio with you Larry the Litigator we wear our ski goggles in solidarity with you and those who are joining us virtually on their phones in their backyards where they use ski goggles to protect their eyes from irritating and unhealthy wood smoke particulates from nearby indoor residential wood burners.

Larry the Litigator Hello virtual audience who I see from your pics are wearing ski goggles in your lovely yards that are unfortunately inundated with your neighbors wood smoke. I can see that you are also wearing N95 masks. Good for you for protecting your selves! Bad for you that you need to wear masks and ski goggles in your own back yards!

RAWSEP Audience Who is the first guest Larry the Litigator?

Larry the Litigator Our first guest is a folksy feisty lady we kind of liked until she started sitting around a campfire on TV preparing a nutritious meal of marshmallows. It is unnecessary to melt marshmallows around a campfire. Marshmallows are so weird they get gummy just sitting on the front seat of a car. Feisty Famous Lady come on down!

Feisty Famous Lady Glad to be here I hope to make a buck or two from your audience today

Larry the Litigator I am keeping you on a short leash in this studio The audience here has suffered enough They do not need a shyster trolling them for cash

Feisty Famous Lady I do not get up in the morning unless I am handed 50 bucks I am out of here

Larry the Litigator Bye Feisty Famous Lady You are not the problem I suppose anyway You are just a mouthy mouthpiece for members of the home insurance industry that do not show their shady smoky faces themselves but plan to plant in vulnerable young macho men the yen to burn wood.

RAWSEP Audience Why would an insurance company do that?

Larry the Litigator I have thought long and hard about that but even I cannot fathom the depths of depravity of pushing wood burning on the public just when everyone in the Los Angeles area is experiencing a high level of health denying wood smoke inhalation from wildfires. Why encourage anyone to add to the misery index which is increased every time one person starts indoor residential wood burning fire whether fireplace wood stove or wood furnace God help us.

RAWSEP Audience Why would an insurance company do that? Give us a clue Larry the Litigator!

Larry the Litigator Reason 1 The insurance company wants to draw in vulnerable young people who moonlight as air polluting indoor residential wood burners just as Trump in his TV ads wanted to draw in whining couch potatoes to vote for him. Unappealing to the average person a vulnerable young person feels 10 feet tall when their dirty sickening habits are imitated in a TV Commercial.

RAWSEP Audience But does not the home insurer lose money when it insures wood burners who are more prone to burn down their own houses? The payout must be steep for insurance companies who take wood burners on.

Larry the Litigator The insurance premiums are higher for indoor residential wood burners so the second insurer reason is I reckon that the insurance companies are expecting to make off like bandits against these vulnerable young people who are also making the bad decision to burn wood in their homes.

RAWSEP Audience That is a folksy way of putting it we reckon Larry the Litigator! Who is our second guest?

Larry the Litigator Our second guest is a white haired dude who lectures a youngish person who is acting like a fuddy duddy before his time not to be a fuddy duddy before his time. The white haired dude is weird because he resembles a fuddy duddy himself.

RAWSEP Audience Oh we just saw that new commercial! Any folksiness that guy built up with us evaporated at the sight of him urging a youngish person to light a wood fire for no reason! This was a jarring commercial because the white haired guy is usually urging the young person not to act like a fuddy duddy by bowling because bowling is a fuddy duddy activity. But in this jarring new commercial the white haired dude is urging a young person to light a wood fire! He is urging a young person to be more of a fuddy duddy than the young person is and the young person is a fuddy duddy youngish person to begin with! The u turn the one ninety of it all. This white haired TV character is acting out of character.

Larry the Litigator The insurance company bent over backward to include wood burning in a TV ad even though the insurance company had to betray the logical expectations of a TV audience. Hopefully the insurance company will lose some viewers and customers over this. Of course it will make no difference. A TV audience generally accepts any pap put before them.

RAWSEP Audience Can the white haired dude hear you? Is the white haired dude in the studio yet?

White Haired Dude I just strolled in and I have to teach you a lesson You are acting like youngish and oldish and whatever age people who have already steeled yourself against our wood burning insurance advertising aimed at vulnerable youngish indoor residential wood burners who just want to feel accepted as they are and will to pay any insurance price to keep on air polluting wood burning which enters the yards and infiltrates the homes of near neighbors and sickens the near neighbors! We are not aiming our ads at the near neighbors! We are not aiming the ads at you! Suckers!

Larry the Litigator I speak for all of the Residents Against Wood Smoke Emission Particulate RAWSEP audience members when I say Good Day Sir Good Day

White Haired Dude I demand 50 dollars for just getting up this morning!

Larry the Litigator Do not tarnish your reputation by grubbing for money I said Good Day Sir Good Day!

RAWSEP Audience Good Day Sir Good Day! Do not start a wood fire on the way out!
