1 United States Trump calls Tesla boycott illegal and says he is buying a Tesla vehicle to support Musk Standing in the driveway of the White House with Tesla vehicles Trump said he would label violence against the Tesla showrooms as domestic terrorism RAWSEP View Like stopping indoor residential wood burning more use of electric vehicles will stop some PM2.5 emissions that harm human health and stop some PM2.5 emissions that contribute to climate change However the monopoly of Tesla electric vehicles should end and the alternative electric vehicle brands now available in 2025 should be bought instead Electric car charging stations should be built which are not exclusively designed for Tesla vehicles or not exclusively designated for Tesla vehicles Excerpts edited by RAWSEP for brevity and clarity and relationship to Residents Against Wood Smoke Emission Particulates a 501c3 nonprofit organization The Guardian March 11 2025 Trump said he is buying a brand new Tesla and blamed Radical Left Lunatics for illegally boycotting the Musk electric vehicle company The announcement came a day after Tesla suffered its worst share price fall in nearly five years Later the president also said he would label violence against Tesla showrooms as domestic terrorism Trump was responding to a question during a Tuesday press conference in which a reporter said Talk to us about some of the violence that is been going on around the country at Tesla dealerships Some say they should be labeled domestic terrorists I will do that I will do that Trump said I am going to put a stop to it Because they are harming a great American company Trump spoke on the White House driveway alongside Musk and the young son of Musk Several Tesla vehicles were parked in the driveway for Trump to pick which vehicle to buy In August 2024 a podcaster gifted Trump a Cybertruck On March 11 2025 Tuesday Trump selected a red Model S which he said he would pay for by check Elon Musk is putting it on the line in order to help our Nation and he is doing a FANTASTIC JOB! But the Radical Left Lunatics as they often do are trying to illegally and collusively boycott Tesla one of the great automakers in the World and the baby of Elon in order to attack and do harm to Elon and everything he stands for Trump posted on Truth Social on Tuesday morning During the press conference Trump reiterated these statements saying We already know who some of them are We are going to catch them and they are bad guys The shares of Tesla fell sharply on Monday as markets reacted to the threat of a recession and the Trump tariff plans The slide of Tesla came amid widespread protests over the billionaire because of the Musk influence in the federal government At Tesla dealerships is a boycott campaign Tesla car owners are selling their Tesla vehicles and activists are pushing members of the public to sell Tesla shares A Tesla car in a dumpster is shown covered in anti nazi graffiti and Musk must go I am selling the Nazi mobile Tesla owners offload vehicles after the Musk fascist style salutes Polls have shown public support for Doge is mixed to unfavorable with the vast majority of Democratic voters polling that Musk has too much power

2 Canadian and European boycotts of Tesla and other U S items From Canada to Europe a movement to boycott US goods is spreading Tesla sales are falling and apps and online groups are springing up to help consumers choose non U S items RAWSEP View The boycotts in Canada and Europe are reactions to Musk attempting to interfere in Canadian United Kingdom and European Union politics

German classical violinist described his horror at the authoritarian polices of Trump and the response of US elites to the American growing democratic crisis I cannot just go and play a tour of beautiful concerts A growing international move to boycott the US is spreading from Scandinavia to Canada to the UK and beyond as consumers turn against US goods Most prominent boycotters are European car buyers of the Teslas produced by Elon Musk now a prominent figure in the Trump administration as the head of the department of government efficiency a special group created by Trump that has contributed to the precipitous declines in the Tesla share price About 15% of its value was wiped out on Monday alone There has also been a Canadian consumer boycott in response to trade tariffs and the Trump calls for Canada to become the 51st state of America The past week has seen daily reports of cultural boycotts and disinvestment Protesters hold placards that say say no to Tesla and nobody voted for Elon Musk! Aboish Doge In Canada apps have emerged with names such as buy beaver maple scan and is this Canadian to allow shoppers to scan QR barcodes and reject US produce from alcohol to pizza toppings The number of Canadians taking road trips to the US representing the majority of Canadians who normally visit dropped by 23% compared with February 2024 In Sweden 40000 users have joined a Facebook group calling for a boycott of US companies ironically including Facebook itself which features alternatives to US consumer products In Denmark where there has been widespread anger over the Trump threat to bring the autonomous territory of Greenland under US control The largest Danish grocery company said it will tag European made goods with a black star to allow consumers to choose them over products made in the US The largest oil bunkering operation in Norway announced a boycott of its supplying of fuel to US navy ships Trump this week has commented on the issue for the first time bemoaning the impact of the Tesla customer boycott and demonstrations And it is likely to spread further still An organiser of the Stop Trump Coalition in the UK is seeing rapidly increasing interest in the issue Already across Europe we are seeing sales of Tesla falling of a cliff because Musk encapsulates so much of the problem with the Trump administration both its culture of horrible racism and the economic side|

which Russia has so far said it is against An open question perhaps is whether peacekeepers could enter Ukraine during a ceasefire period Until the Tuesday March 11 2025 discussions between US and Ukrainian delegations bore fruit the battlefield dynamics did not appear to favour a ceasefire The Ukraine decision to launch a drone attack into Russia on Monday night was a clear demonstration that its military capacity had not yet been significantly dented by the pause in supply of US military intelligence It was also an aggressive effort to put pressure on Moscow to agree a peace The Russian defence ministry said Ukraine had attacked with 337 drones 91 of which were aimed at Moscow Three people were reported to have been killed All four of the Moscow airports had to be closed and local air defences were not entirely effective in repelling the assault The Moscow regional governor said that two people had been killed at a car park near a meat processing plant in Domodedovo 5 miles from an airport Later it was reported that a third man had died Striking at civilian targets is never attractive though the images were not dissimilar to those of Ukrainian cities hit nightly by Russian bombing over the past three years Russia has also been increasing the scale of its drone attacks recently On Monday Russia launched 126 Shahed drones as well as other decoy drones into Ukraine alongside a ballistic missile Fighting on the frontline has favoured Russia for some time but not dramatically or decisively so On Thursday March 6 2025 last week a day after the US confirmed its decision to halt the flow of intelligence Russia launched an effort with the help of North Korean troops to recapture the remainder of the Kursk area held by Ukraine That has forced the defenders back by between 4 and 8 miles 65km and 13km and into the outskirts of Sudzha a village that Ukraine has occupied since August 2024 But the Russian success may only be a function of a concerted attack rather than a beginnings of a rout caused by the temporary absence of targeting data That means Russian progress in the Kursk sector for example is likely to continue if no ceasefire is agreed Nevertheless the diplomatic momentum is suddenly with Ukraine though with the mercurial Trump involved it is unclear for how long Around $1bn £772m of US military aid is now potentially unblocked while key functions for totemic weapons such as F 16s are presumably being restored and the the Kremlin immediate hopes of grinding down Kyiv on the frontline are set back

4B Ukraine aid from the U S reinstated Soldiers of the Ukraine 5th brigade hold a poster thanking the US for its support at the front line near Toretsk Donetsk region on Tuesday RAWSEP View Ukraine has had U S support reinstated ahead of negotiations with Russia Excerpts edited by RAWSEP for brevity and clarity and relationship to Residents Against Wood Smoke Emission Particulates a 501c3 nonprofit organization The Guardian March 12 2025 US aid deliveries to Ukraine back to previous levels Polish foreign minister confirms Polish foreign minister Radosław Sikorski has just confirmed that US aid deliveries to Ukraine coming through the Polish logistics hub in Rzeszów Jasionka have returned to previous levels seen before the brief pause Sikorski spoke at a press conference alongside his Ukrainian counterpart Andriy Sybiha who stopped in Poland on his way back from Jeddah Sybiha speaking in Polish said that Ukraine was the country that wants to end this war and achieve a just lasting peace the most He added that Ukraine was ready to form a negotiating team to work on a roadmap to reach ceasefire with Russia Last night US and Ukraine leaders agreed on resuming the aid deliveries and intelligence sharing as part of a broader peace In a cheeky comment just days after he publicly clashed with US state secretary Marco Rubio and Trump aide Elon Musk

5 Russia and the United States A Pact between two men is emerging A Trump Putin pact is emerging and Europe is its target The U S betrayal of Ukraine is the rehearsal for a grander bargain with Moscow and an assault on continental solidarity in Europe RAWSEP View This is an opinion piece below but RAWSEP believes the depiction of the personal motivations of Trump may be accurate It is hard for RAWSEP to believe that the majority of Americans share those Trumpian types of motivations Excerpts edited by RAWSEP for brevity and clarity and relationship to Residents Against Wood Smoke Emission Particulates a 501c3 nonprofit organization The Guardian March 12 2025 During a Russian prime time current affairs program a discussion is held about the Trump handling of the war in Ukraine He is doing excellent things says a firebrand politician on the panel before listing White House actions that have belittled Volodymyr Zelenskyy and weakened his battlefield position military aid suspended satellite communications obstructed intelligence withheld Do we support this? It is a rhetorical question We support it all Absolutely the celebrity host responds We are thrilled by everything Trump is doing The anchor of the show is one of the most dependable propagandists for Putin on the Russian state controlled Channel One This being a Kremlin script the enthusiasm was soon leavened with suspicion For now the pressure on Kyiv is great the Show Anchor continued but what will the Americans want in return? It is a good question although that does not mean there is an answer It is a mistake to project coherence on to the erratic moves of an overgrown toddler tyrant Illusory patterns might be traced in the chaos the way faces can be found in drifting clouds if you stare hard enough But Trump does have predictable tastes and grudges Trump loves money and status Trump hates obstacles to the acquisition of those things Trump is well disposed to Russia seeing it as the kind of place where good deals can be done Trump is hostile to the upkeep of Ukrainian independence which he sees as a bad use of US treasure wheedled out of Joe Biden Trump views Biden with withering disdain Trump has deep dislike for Zelensky who Trump views as crafty These petty prejudices are strongly enough held to sway US foreign policy in a Kremlin friendly direction without the additional requirement of a strategy There is plenty for Putin to work with For both Putin and Trump the idea of pooling sovereignty among democratic nations such as European nations for mutual economic advantage is incomprehensible To negotiate as equals with the E U a flimsy paper entity without any tank divisions to call its own is absurd and abhorrent The Trump and Putin answer to soft power is to confront it with the hard stuff connive in its dismemberment and share the spoils This is the subtext of negotiations to end the war that Putin started and that Trump wants to end without regard for justice They are rehearsing a shared agenda through the proxy of partitioning Ukraine exploring the scope of a partnership that has a deeper foundation than the former allies of the U S the Europeans want to admit Victory for Putin and Trump together might not come to fruition Trump is easily distracted but also easily bought and Russia has put a predatory joint venture on the table Europe is the prey
