5 Movie Stars Democrats Matthew McConaughey Air pollution from wood burning RAWSEP View A major motion picture about the Camp Fire in California From the article headline The Lost Bus review Matthew McConaughey and America Ferrera in dynamic real life blaze escape movie The Lost Bus Review Matthew McConaughey Rides Out Disaster RAWSEP View Pacific Gas and Electric was found liable for a downed power line but Climate Change undoubtedly contributed mightily to the blaze And the air pollution caused by the wood burning Camp Wildfire doubtlessly contributed to lingering human illnesses and human deaths from the Camp Wildfire into the future The film probably does not dwell on the air pollution caused by wood burning but it might Excerpts edited by RAWSEP for brevity and clarity and relationship to Residents Against Wood Smoke Emission Particulates The New York Times September 18 2025 The actor stars alongside America Ferrera in a high-tension drama from the director Paul Greengrass that revisits the deadly 2018 Camp Fire in California The tightly focused drama The Lost Bus is set against the 2018 Camp Fire in Northern California one of the worst conflagrations in recent American history The director Paul Greengrass has a couple of top notch Jason Bourne thrillers on his résumé and he is one of those filmmakers who knows how to activate your amygdala the part of your brain that sets off your fight or flight response Here, with well-honed skills and mercenary efficiency he seizes your attention and hijacks your emotions creating an anxious, physically heightened experience that helps take your mind off the inanity of the writing For the movie Greengrass and his co-writer, Brad Ingelsby have plucked a story of a survivor of the disaster from the 2021 nonfiction book Paradise The struggle of One Town to Survive an American Wildfire Written by Lizzie Johnson it chronicles what happened in the fire and why through personal accounts and an analysis of the larger issues including corporate malfeasance One of the most terrifying stories is that of Kevin McKay a school bus driver who punched into work at 6 45 a m on November 18 2018 Sometime earlier an old metal hook on a high voltage transmission tower owned by Pacific Gas and Electric had broken sparking what became known as the Camp Fire At this point you should know that Kevin Mary and the children survive That may constitute a spoiler for some viewers but I imagine that for those unfamiliar with the real story it may be a mercy to know that the people the characters are based on did not burn to death like other residents In total 85 people died in the Camp Fire and Paradise was largely destroyed Greengrass knows how to shoot and cut but The Lost Bus is at once too high minded and too exploitative to work However skilled the cinematography and editing there is no saving a movie predicated on looming death with badly written characters and such a frustratingly narrow point of view Stories about real heroes can be reassuring but when the villains remain as absent as they are here it flattens the realism and turns genuine horror into a canned thriller So it seems worth noting that Pacific Gas and Electric had repeatedly failed to maintain the 100 year old transmission line Since 2019 it has filed for bankruptcy agreed to pay 13 point 5 billion dollars to wildfire survivors pleaded guilty to multiple counts of manslaughter in the Camp Fire and emerged from bankruptcy Per a recent corporate news release for investors it is on track to deliver solid 2025 financial results
