1 It is like this Cat! A book for children published in 1963! Excerpts edited by RAWSEP for brevity and clarity and relationship to Residents Against Wood Smoke Emission Particulates a 501C3 nonprofit organization Wikipedia October 26 2025 Dave is a 14 year old boy who is growing up in the middle of 20th century New York City Dave lives with his father and his asthmatic mother whose attacks worsen when Dave and his father have their frequent arguments The refuge of Dave after a clash with his father is with Kate an elderly neighbor whose apartment is filled with stray cats she loves Dave adopts one of the stray cats names it Cat and takes him home Cat brings both joy and adventure into the life of Dave The presence of Cat brings Dave into contact with several new people including a troubled college aged boy named Tom and the first girlfriend of Dave named Mary While documenting the growing maturity of Dave the book also provides glimpses of a few of the neighborhoods and attractions of New York from the Fulton Fish Market to the Bronx Zoo and Coney Island There are 18 plot points which if the Teach In lessons are followed allow this callow boy of 14 to mature to a fully functional adult of 18 years of age without becoming a criminal like one of his friends! Nick and Mary who are not a couple! Dave and Mary should be the couple! Crazy! Man! Dave and his best friend Nick decide to take Cat with them to the beach at Coney Island There they meet three girls their age who use Cat as an excuse to meet the boys including a quiet brunette named Mary who actually likes Cat Plot point 4 Nick drags Dave against his will on a double date with two of the girls they met at the beach but not Mary Dave becomes resentful of Nick making fun of him to impress the girls and after the date they get into a fistfight! Dave rides his bike to Brooklyn to find Tom working in a gas station Later Dave meets Tom at Coney Island where he meets the girlfriend of Tom named Hilda who fills Dave in on Tom getting kicked out of New York University NYU and his father disowning him which led up to Tom accepting the dare of petty theft in the basement Back at home Dave asks his father Pop who is a lawyer if he can do anything to help Tom and his father agrees to talk to Tom Plot point 7 Survival! The editor of RAWSEP did not notice this when reading this book as a child but the answer to many Bro problems in this book at least Cat Bro problems is neutering! Good to know! Cat will become more measured in his responses and not get into so many dumb fights with another Bro Cat! The Plot point 7 is that Cat comes home seriously injured from a fight with another cat and Dave has to make the difficult decision to have him neutered Plot point 8 West Side Story Dave bumps into Mary at a record store They go to a performance of West Side Story together and make plans to meet up over Columbus Day RAWSEP View The Plot point 8 is that music tames the savage beast and allows love to conquer all! Without actual neutering of a human being! Plot point 9 Fathers The father of Tom is introduced as a character who is absent from the life of Tom Pop the father of Dave gives Tom the wise advice to forget Tom even has a father! Pop will take the place of a father in the life of Tom from now on! An orderly life for Tom ensues! Tom follows the advice of Pop to write his father and own up to his mistakes and to ask for help The letter is returned to sender no forwarding address Pop advises Tom to forget about his father and Pop promises to help Tom get his life in order Plot point 10 Cat and the Parkway Here Pop shows he is just a man and Pop makes mistakes himself! Tom works for a flower vendor! On a car trip to Connecticut Cat escapes through an open car window! Pop laughs! Tom jumps out of the car and walks the long way home dodging heavy traffic! Plot point 11 Rosh Hashanah at the Fulton Fish Market The new character here is Ben who goes to high school with Dave Cat is a pescatarian but not a pest! At his first year of high school and Dave recognizes a familiar face Ben is a Jewish boy who lives near him Dave and Ben become friends and spend the Rosh Hashanah school holiday exploring the city and visiting the Fulton Fish Market to get fish heads for Cat Plot point 12 The Red Eft RAWSEP interjection A Red Eft is the terrestrial land dwelling juvenile stage of the Eastern Newt also known as the Red Spotted Newt This stage is characterized by a bright orange red color and dry skin and it lasts for several years before the newt returns to the water to undergo a final metamorphosis into its adult aquatic form Life stage Being an Eft is a life stage not a separate species from being a Newt Habitat Efts live on land in moist habitats like forests and among leaf litter Back to the Wikipedia entry on It is like this Cat! Dave and Ben visit the Bronx Zoo and an adjacent park to research native animals for a biology project There they catch two Red Efts At home Cat kills one of the Red Efts 13 The Left Bank of Coney Island Here Dave is 15 years old because this is a year later than the beginning of the book! A new character is the mother of Mary who is a beatnik! In 1963! Sort of makes sense! Dave meets Mary on the Coney boardwalk on a cold Columbus Day Mary takes him home and introduces him to her beatnik mother Celebrating Columbus Day dates this 62 year old book! Plot point 14 Expedition by Ferry The new character here is the backdrop of New York City Dave and Mary continue their Columbus Day date together by riding their bikes to catch the Staten Island ferry They have lunch at a delicatessen and visit the zoo Plot point 15 Dollars and Cats A new character of an estranged hermetic wealthy brother of the cat lady neighbor Kate is introduced! No wonder this is a good book for a Teach In according to the editor of RAWSEP! The editor of RAWSEP did not make a mistake choosing this book for a Teach In! The prospect of gaining the fortune of her brother and the media attention that ensues overwhelm Kate A kitten meets a grisly end under the foot of a careless news photographer and the family of Dave ends up adopting two other of kittens previously belonging to Kate 17 Telephone Numbers Dave receives an unexpected phone call from Mary Dave brings her home for dinner It is then that he realizes that she had looked up his number weeks before 18 Here is to Cat!
