

Webisode 57DHXYZ October 31 2025 Trump as storyteller projecting Pizzagate stories which are lies

Projection psychologically means a person projects his own emotions and actions onto a passerby rather than acknowledging that those emotions and actions are coming from himself Trump associated with Epstein who was a pedophile and Trump emotions of closeness to a pedophile and Trump actions of association with a pedophile were projected onto the early pre 2016 accusations of Pizzagate pedophilism against Democrats The Pizzagate pedophilism charges against Democrats had no basis in fact Pizzagate when believed by Republicans greatly aided in getting Trump elected in 2016 Trump is a prolific storyteller! Who is prone to believe the many lies Trump projects into the world? When Trump taps into his own emotions and actions projecting stories which are lies about passersby who happen to vote Democrat who among the Trump voters continues to share the Trump emotions and Trump actions? The spell Trump cast for Republicans with Trump lies about Pizzagate that Democrats were pedophile heads of a pedophile ring based in Pizza Parlor basements in Washington DC started before 2016 and extended until very recently in 2025 when leaks about the Epstein Files seemed to sway even ardent conspiracists like Marjorie Taylor Greene to demand to see evidence in the Epstein Files that may prove that Trump himself was associated with the pedophile Epstein Democrats were interested in the issues of Rich versus Poor and Well Regulated Government working to support social programs that protect the health and lives of average citizens versus Big Business calling the shots pursuing their own profits and Smart Regulation of and ending of Pollution from industries and from home heating alike versus letting the World careen toward Climate Catastrophe and many other issues that humans can control if they put their minds to them By their voting records Democrats showed they were uninterested in Trump lies By their voting records Republicans showed they were very interested in Trump Tall Tails to put it politely and very interested in Trump lies Why were Republicans interested in Trump projection of his own emotions and actions onto Democrat passersby who merely stood in the Trump way of winning the presidency? Some answers could be that interested Republicans were themselves pedophiles and in discussing pedophilism at length when there was no evidence that Democrat Pizzagate pedophilism existed Republicans could at least talk about sex with minors at length without appearing to be the bad guys Now that freedom to discuss sex with minors without looking like pedophiles will be taken away if the Epstein files are released and prove definitively that Trump is a pedophile and prove definitively that Trump was elected by Republicans who decried pedophiles but were secretly only discussing the subject because they wanted to think at length about the possibility of sex with minors Seeing that Trump lies using psychological emotional and actual projection of untruths about Democrat pedophilism shows only one of several ways Trump distracts from truly pressing matters of governance that have been put on the back shelf since 2016 Let us list the truly pressing matters of United States governance that have been shelved since 2016 by Republican distractions The United States government was created to represent all the people The Trump United States government should not provide tax breaks for the rich at the expense of all other income groups That is shown recently most starkly with the push for the Trump administration to cut off food aid to low income Americans Providently courts recently required the Trump administration to release funds for food aid to low income Americans already allocated by another branch of the government the Congress The third branch of government The Courts are the last recourse against Trump actions to turn America into a pig trough for rich Americans at the expense of all other income groups The United States government has historically sought to combat Climate Change The Trump United States government should not cut off funds for development of renewable clean energy of Wind Solar and Geothermal The Trump government should not provide subsidies for the dirty energy of Fossil Fuels and the dirty energy of the Wood Burning industry also named the Biofuels industry in an attempt to

greenwash dirty energy that shortens the lives and ruins the health of humans living in the United States Because air is not contained by borders eventually the air pollution from indoor residential wood burning contributes to shortening the lives and ruining the health of all humans living on the earth To bring this list back to the concern of Residents Against Wood Smoke Emission Particulates The Trump United States government includes the Environmental Protection Agency The Environmental Protection Agency should live up to its name and protect the environment The EPA should extend regulation of clean air to the level of households for the sake of human health and to prevent unnecessary human deaths The EPA should enact regulations that prohibit indoor residential wood burning which emits particulate matter PM 2 point 5 air pollution above World Health Organization W H O PM 2 point five designated allowable levels of 5 micrograms per cubic meter annually These W H O guideline air pollution amount guidelines if made a basis for regulation and enforcement would ensure that all indoor residential wood burners if monitored would be shut down Low cost resident owned PurpleAir PM 2 point 5 monitors hanging from the eaves of the home of a near neighbor of an indoor residential wood burner would accurately measure levels above W H O standards and those readings should be used as evidence of harmful air pollution levels affecting near neighbors if those monitors are in place hyper locally Those PM 2 point 5 monitors should not be located far from the source of pollution which is why they should ideally be placed in the yards of near neighbors of the source of air pollution Trump distractions from the pressing matters which the United States government was created to address should not carry the day Surprisingly it is the matter of lies about pedophilism that galvanized Republican voters starting in 2016 that may lose Trump those same Republican voters Exposure to Trump lies about purported Democrat pedophilism to distract from Trump association with Epstein may be the issue that makes possible a US government return to the real concerns of American voters about human health

The elections in Ireland and the Netherlands showed gains for Democratic Liberal values in other parts of the world The upcoming November 4 2025 Elections for governors in New Jersey and Maryland and Mayor in New York City and defensive Redistricting in favor of Democrats in California may also show gains for Democratic Liberal values in other parts of the United States The Trump Epstein fallout in the United Kingdom might foreshadow the effect of that fallout on Trump in the United States
