

Webisode 57DHYAFD December 12 2025 Santa Con and Burning Man starters influenced Fight Club

Larry the Litigator here in the RAWSEP studio with all air purifiers running and the entire RAWSEP Audience wearing the stylish ski goggles in solidarity with Residents Against Wood Smoke Emission Particulates a 501C3 nonprofit organization in solidarity with the personal protective equipment that protects the eyes of near neighbors from the PM 2 point 5 emissions from indoor residential wood burners in their yards which also infiltrates their homes in their own hyper localized neighborhoods!

RAWSEP Audience Hey Larry! Did Santa Con and Burning Man originators influence Fight Club?

Larry the Litigator The short answer is that Yes, the same people who started Santa Con also started Burning Man and influenced Fight Club. The Coco Puffs Society, which created Santa Con, was also responsible for developing Burning Man and inspired Project Mayhem of the Fight Club. These events share a common origin in the counterculture and performance art movements, highlighting the interconnectedness of these cultural phenomena.

RAWSEP Audience Hey Larry! We think referring to Santa Con and Burning Man and Fight Club as cultural phenomena lends them an intellectual heft that they cannot carry! They are bully boy movements and possible precursors to the Trump 2 point 0 we are now all being bullied with! You take an icon who just gives out gifts to good kids and historically and equitably does not give gifts to bad kids and make him a drunken embarrassment today December 12 2025 at least in a tradition in New York City! You take a unfortunately historically necessary method of home heating that historically caused shortened lifespans although it was until around the 1800s the main way to keep primitive people or poor people in northern hemispheres from freezing in their homes and make it into a cudgel to use against clean air on a grand scale! You take what some think is a legitimate sport of boxing

Larry the Litigator I do not think boxing is legitimate entertainment and I am a real man!

RAWSEP Audience and turn it into a pretty boy vanity project needlessly influencing moviegoers to hit out like other people are crash test dummies and then some consider it a cultural phenomenon!

Larry the Litigator I take it from your tone you do not find Bad Santas funny or getting hit by unnecessary air pollution from indoor residential wood burning funny or getting hit by a pugilist funny!

RAWSEP Audience It is funny that one industry leader churned out three unfunny uncultured phenomena.

Larry the Litigator What would you suggest as an alternative?

RAWSEP Audience Santa Con Burning Man and Fight Club give influencers a bad name! There are other influencers today who by just living their lives online model behavior that does not create problems for society at large such as Santas you cannot trust unnecessary air pollution from indoor residential wood burning and from industrial wood burning not to mention air pollution from burning a man! which probably influences arson too! And creating the problem of someone on the street just coming up to you and punching you!

Larry the Litigator Have all those things happened to you recently? Feel free to vent!

RAWSEP Audience Well I still trust Santa and I have not been punched on the street recently but today I again experienced the unnecessary air pollution of an indoor residential wood burner PM2 point 5 emissions entering my yard and infiltrating my home! Larry the Litigator Have you had as poignant an experience as this one man in India? Today a podcaster was quoted about his homeland Life and death in the air apocalypse of India. I recently asked a motorbike taxi driver how he survives. His secret? Drinking a mix of local herbs and jaggery to detox his lungs. When reality is unbearable, delusion becomes the only shelter some people can afford. RAWSEP Audience That sounds like the delusion of MAHA mothers who think herbs should be used instead of vaccines to protect their children! On what planet do MAHA mothers live?

Larry the Litigator It seems to me that MAHA mothers are the same mothers that would condone unnecessary indoor residential wood burning!

RAWSEP Audience Great analogy Larry the Litigator!

Larry the Litigator Instead of hitting out blindly Instead of being punch drunk on good analogies Let us celebrate that Indiana voted down Trump bully redistricting! Hopefully this will be a slow news day on the Trump front! Fingers crossed! Adieu for now RAWSEP Residents! Keep it clean!
