I tried to bark like a dog to warn you
Pulling facts and figures that are gone now
Then I felt I should speak like a human
Talk about angels and heaven and a man
But that is just a way to focus on the flaws
Of unthinking cruelty honed to get your awe
It is better to take action and speak plain
Make our energy clean and refrain
From polluting our air with wood smoke
Replace it with reality uncloaked
Make air that is sunny and shadowy and
Beautiful when not smudged by man
Now I can bark out songs that please me
Just make them positive and not dreamy
Of course I could turn on a dime
It depends on what happens next time
