

Radio Free Europe investigation of abuse of Ukrainian P O Ws A Russian General discussed Execution of P O Ws online In private chats Russian soldier sentenced to life in prison for executing Ukrainian P O Ws.
According to Ukraine, at least 3 hundred 22 Ukrainian prisoners of war had been executed by Russian forces as of October 6, 2025.
Russia's war against Ukraine Firefighters extinguish a fire after a Russian overnight attack on Dnipropetrovsk Oblast on February 20, 2026 said State Emergency Service of Ukraine In Ukraine Counteroffensive 300 square meters liberated At least 11 reported injured after Ukraine hits one of Russia's most important ballistic missile factories in long-range strike, The Votkinsk Plant is a strategic, state-owned defense enterprise and one of the most important missile factories in Russia.
It produces Iskander ballistic missiles used in attacks against Ukraine and nuclear-armed intercontinental ballistic missiles.
Ukraine strikes Russian command posts, logistics hubs in occupied territories, General Staff says. Ukraine struck multiple Russian military command posts and logistics hubs in occupied territories, the General Staff reported on February 20, 2026 Ukraine war latest: 10 detained after Russian-ordered assassination plot foiled Ten people were detained in Moldova and Ukraine for allegedly plotting contract killings of prominent Ukrainians on Russia's orders, the Security Service of Ukraine (SBU) said on February 20. The probe is being carried out by a joint investigative team formed by the two countries.

Ukrainian officials reject latest Donbas proposal from US During the latest U.S.-mediated negotiations in Geneva on February 17 to 18, 2026 Kyiv and Moscow discussed a joint Russian-Ukrainian civilian administration to run a demilitarized zone in the Donbas. But Ukrainian officials say the proposal is unrealistic and unacceptable, and the recent round of talks again ended in a stalemate US will be 'primarily responsible' for monitoring ceasefire in Ukraine, Zelensky reveals. "I consider this a very important result, which our team brought back," President Volodymyr Zelensky said. Russia stalls once again as Ukraine pushes for new February peace talks.
President Volodymyr Zelensky is expected to meet with Ukraine's negotiating team on February 20, 2026.