

Webisode 57DHYAFZZFLHA March 9 2026 We are in the sway of flowers more than we think

We are in the sway of flowers more than we think flowers are foundational to humanity's work.
Besides bringing beauty and joy into the world,
Thriving worlds grow from cooperation whirled, mediated by beauty, with some illusion thrown in.
Flowering plants have run this world and have since more than a hundred million years ago.
flowering plants made the modern world flow from prairies and rainforests to bees and butterflies,
Among the most trivialized part of the natural world ties
Flowers are among its most powerful and essential.
Flowering plants as powerful agents of change in vivo.
Flowers wield beauty as a world-making force,
Flowers actively shape the planet, and, by extension, us.