

If the Cherry Tree refused to Bloom
I would still be loving you
When Wind Farms crumble to the sea
There will still be you and me
A Wind Farm startup, I gave my all
Some middle man said you will fall

Little Cherry Blossoms, petals of pink
Fall like hugs, and, to you, I wink
I only become bolder, my love is free
Together we shall innovate until we die.

Innovation is what wind is to me
A turbine in the sky, every few miles
Thanks to turbines it will be done
Electricity will extend to everyone

Happiness, and Lights are on
Happiness, and Cherries are born
Wind Farms did not crumble to the sea
They make energy for you and me.

If the Cherry Tree refused to Bloom
I would still be loving you
When Wind Farms crumble to the sea
There will still be you and me
A Wind Farm startup, I gave my all
Some middle man said you will fall

Little Cherry Blossoms, petals of pink
