

Web 57DHYAFZZFLWFX May 20 2026 The Fine Print of the Dump settlement with himself

The Fine Print of the Dump settlement with Dump.

One perhaps last present to America lumped

In with infusing a tragic situation with humor and hijinks on TV on May Nineteenth Two Thousand Twenty Six was a breakdown of the Dump Settlement with Dump with Fine Print outlining how One point Eight Million to Dump could go directly to Dump do not pass go nor pass the Congress and definitely do not go to Jail nor any real wrongs redress on the way to funneling a slush fund to Dump directly out in the open corruption the same week as removal in primaries for example voting out Republicans Cassidy and Massie!

As part of the Dump Justice Department deal, Dump officials vowed not to pursue any Dump tax return matters, including those involved with the Dump tax returns that are pending. The Internal Revenue Service I R S is directed to Drop Audits of Dump and Family avenues.

In another legal matter, January Sixth, Two Thousand Twenty One

Police Officers Sue to Block One point Eight Billion Dollar Fund

To pay to persons who among other actions, attacked police officers on that day in Two Thousand Twenty one. Payout Fund: Two officers who defended the Capitol on January 6, Two Thousand Twenty One sued the Trump administration to try to stop the creation of a One Point Eight Billion Dollar fund that the police officers argue would benefit rioters who committed violence to support the president. The lawsuit argues the administration exceeded its authority to create the fund without Congress's authorization. They say it will be used to reward the rioters and right-wing militia groups who tried to stop Congress from certifying the election results that day. The police officers allege that the Trump administration has created a "slush fund to finance the insurrectionists and paramilitary groups that commit violence in his name." It names as defendants President Trump as well as acting Attorney General Todd Blanche and Treasury Secretary Scott Bessent.

How is this related to Residents Against Wood Smoke Emission Particulates?

The executive at the highest government level is concerned with legal efforts to increase payments to the executive using dubious means rather than supporting Clean Air by supporting Clean Energy Solutions such as regulation of Air Pollution Emissions and enforcement of Air Pollution existing regulations. Indeed the executive is actively seeking to shut down clean energy solutions such as wind farms while U S states are the beacon of hope in the efforts of states such as Utah passing legislation allowing individually responsibility by ownership of balcony solar which could cut use of utility electricity use by Twenty Percent for every household that uses Balcony solar and power for example a refrigerator freezer and a modem for a household using affordable at only one to two thousand dollars per household for Solar on each Balcony

Focus on Clean Air and Clean Energy flow from Balcony Solar not executive money.