Web 57DHYAFZZFLLMB October 3 2026 Withholding Medical Care can be a strategy

Withholding medical care can be a strategy.
A strategy feared by Putin today, apparently.
Sophisticated spies and mobsters are on Russian territory.
Putin fears hanging by them, in a quote circulated famously.
To fellow spies and mobsters losing the war is offensive.
In Putin's teetering mind this bloody diversion is defensive.
It's only human to defend yourself but if you were the initiator
That puts a weak human spin on it, though even mobsters might take credit for creating an illusion of choice in this game.
Putin reveled in the idea of quick success and world fame
Starting in Two Thousand Twenty Two February Twenty Four.
Now in response to Ukraine defensive drones Putin goes full bore.
In the U S could withholding medical care also be a strategy?
Withholding vaccines, withholding insurance coverage apparently
Was thought by the unsophisticated seemingly untargeted by Dump himself
At least in speeches. Only others would be affected by his plumbing for wealth.
It turns out that, like tariffs, on those most needing food and transport,
In other words everyone in the U S, withholding medicine and vaccines will affect all in the same airspace, in cases of airborne disease.
U S mobsters gambling on our own health while following influencers.
Billionaires who think they own rich-people-defenses against foul air.
Not thinking of the long term and hope for short term monetary gains.
Or have mass dementia coordinated with fame.
How much is going wrong at the same time.
What can we do? Begin a democratic climb!
Global Climate change can incrementally be slowed down
By taking Individual Responsibility. Stop burning wood and take down Indoor Residential Wood Burners, if wood stoves, and intelligently replace each with a subsidized clean energy Heat Pump, not a polluting fireplace.
Get a law passed allowing Balcony A K A Plug In Solar in your state.
Make it affordable to use clean energy to help Tariff bills abate.
