Prompted to leave the Sugar Castle, for
It is the day after Twelfth of October!
Participants are wondering what is in store
On the news front of air pollution, the horror!
For diversion a book had been read aloud,
A musical autobiography, to the crowd.
Some missteps overall promptly reversed
The book simply written, with verve, and in verse!
Turning now to become a newshound as everyone has
The frontispiece was dedicated to “The Front Page”
The unlikely play turned movie that depicted rage
Subdued into humorous asides to turn the page
The play ends when a governor’s reprieve discovered
Like in “The Front Page” the Planet clearly an innocent.
The Air Pollution news of today is more real and serious
Air Pollution brushed off now causes an existential crisis
Pretended ignorance of the evidence right in front of us
Affects countries around the world. It condemns us
To a fate we really do not deserve, almost comically
But not quite. Leaving us with a vote decided economically.
Usually Canaries in a Coal Mine the members of RAWSEP
Enjoyed our stay in the Sugar Castle making mock ups
Actions to take and table top exercises of when
Power is returned to intelligent and watchful men
And women who share democratic values and concerns
Like Health Care, Public Health, Clean Air and yearn
For subsidies for Heat Pumps and Electric Cars federally
Not caught up in delays and red tape of today legally.
Will the general public step up and vote for their own interests?
Or will a Red appetite for destruction feed onto itself?
It has in the past with rejection of masks and vaccines during a pandemic
An opportunity for cranks to arise in a perplexing idiotic dynamic!
There are no more “Front Pages” except what we try to create
Let your adult imagination library loose! Go out and educate!
Stop indoor residential wood burning in your locality
The best path is to compare notes internationally!
