Lula won in Brazil and the Serbian Student List won as well
Intact or nearer Democracy, Call it left or call it intellectuals Brazil had a setback from Two Thousand Nineteen to Two Thousand Twenty Three when Bolsonaro Senior corruptly reigned until jailed and The Bolsonaro son named Flavio attempted to topple Lula and lost.
Lula can still protect us from climate change in the Amazonian Forest.
Serbia toppled Aleksandar VOO-cheech Vučić after a reign of Fourteen Years Reasons included environmental degradation and infrastructure failures from the fatal Novi Sad railway station canopy collapse, to systemic corruption and lack of oversight in state-backed public works.
VOO-cheech Vučić resisted. Student List called for climate centers to be transparent, pass anti-corruption scrutiny, and deter large-scale industrial and mining projects like Rio Tinto's planned potential high pollution without regulation, the Serbian planned Jadar lithium mine, which the administration of Aleksandar VOO-cheech Vučić and the Serbian Progressive Party SNS backed, while the student-led, who teach, Student List movement has pledged to review such controversial infrastructure and environmental agreements under strict rules of law. Democracy assures
The Student List coalition won the elections of October Two thousand Twenty Six
On the same day that Lula won on October Twenty Fifth Two Thousand Twenty Six!
Jadar lithium mining project in Loznica, drew strong public opposition To the pro-industry stance raising environmental and public health concerns.
The Former Administration of VOO-Cheech Vučić and the SNS
Pursued energy and economic ties with multiple global partners Without accountability including China, Russia, and Western investors without stringent environmental or public accountability mechanisms attached to major construction and mining permits. Degradation and failure was seen by critics and watchdogs regarding the Environment.
The Student List Movement saw that lithium mining operations and urban developments, Need to be thoroughly reviewed by an administration abiding by the rule of law and Emerging from grassroots blockades sparked by government negligence and environmental-safety failures, the movement's platform prioritizes ecological transparency, institutional reform, and holding public officials accountable for environmental and construction hazards. Environmental protection and governance around anti-corruption standards and European values of the Student List frames contrasts with the opaque concession deals favored by the previous regime. The Student List frames European Standards Alignment. In other words, the art of the deal
In Serbia was corrupt beyond tolerance of Serbian intellectuals.
Back in Brazil, Flavio lost and Bolsonaro Senior is kept in jail.
The election result was Fifty Two to Forty Eight percent
So the Lula victory was decisive. Back in Serbia the Student List Received One Hundred Thirty Five seats and VOO-cheech Vučić One Hundred Five seats Serbia's longtime nationalist strongman, Aleksandar VOO-Cheech Vučić, conceded defeat Sunday. His once-tight grip on power was weakened by nearly two years of student-led street protests.
Serbia's vote for a new Parliament came just six months after voters in neighboring Hungary rejected their own populist nationalist leader, Viktor Orban, a close ally of Mister VOO Cheech!

The Serbian leader had adopted many of the Hungarian's authoritarian methods and, at the end, his gracious acceptance of defeat, as well. congratulating the victors, a new political grouping called Student List- Students Win.
The slate of candidates selected by protesting students won One Hundred Thirty Five seats in Serbia's Two Hundred Fifty member legislature. His own party won One Hundred Five seats.
In Brazil, Lula can build on policies and push through key initiatives of the Lula administration.
Maintain strict enforcement to achieve the goal of zero illegal deforestation by Two Thousand Thirty across the Amazon and Cerrado.
Fully roll out national fire prevention and management policies to combat wildfires across vulnerable ecosystems like the Pantanal and Cerrado.
Strengthen Environmental enforcement bodies like IBAMA Brazilian Institute of Environment and Renewable Natural Resources to rollback deregulation and protect native forests.
Defend the Brazilian Forest Code, the Atlantic Forest Law, and native vegetation safeguard laws against a newly elected, right-wing-heavy Congress.
Advance International and Climate Commitments: Lead a renewed push at global climate and biodiversity forums, upcoming COP summits to phase out fossil fuels, expand climate finance, and grow the regulated carbon market.
Balance Economic Growth and Conservation: Shift toward sustainable, deforestation-free supply chains. Resist beef and soy pressures and internal pressures from domestic oil exploration and markets.
Stopping indoor residential wood burning is not explicitly on the list
